This is a digital copy of a book that was preserved for generations on library shelves before it was carefully scanned by Google as part of a project to make the world's books discoverable online.

It has survived long enough for the copyright to expire and the book to enter the public domain. A public domain book is one that was never subject to copyright or whose legal copyright term has expired. Whether a book is in the public domain may vary country to country. Public domain books are our gateways to the past, representing a wealth of history, culture and knowledge that's often difficult to discover.

Marks, notations and other marginalia present in the original volume will appear in this file - a reminder of this book's long journey from the publisher to a library and finally to you.

Usage guidelines

Google is proud to partner with libraries to digitize public domain materials and make them widely accessible. Public domain books belong to the public and we are merely their custodians. Nevertheless, this work is expensive, so in order to keep providing this resource, we have taken steps to prevent abuse by commercial parties, including placing technical restrictions on automated querying.

We also ask that you:

+ Make non-commercial use of the files We designed Google Book Search for use by individuals, and we request that you use these files for personal, non-commercial purposes.
+ Refrain from automated querying Do not send automated queries of any sort to Google's system: If you are conducting research on machine translation, optical character recognition or other areas where access to a large amount of text is helpful, please contact us. We encourage the use of public domain materials for these purposes and may be able to help.
+ Maintain attribution The Google "watermark" you see on each file is essential for informing people about this project and helping them find additional materials through Google Book Search. Please do not remove it.
+ Keep it legal Whatever your use, remember that you are responsible for ensuring that what you are doing is legal. Do not assume that just because we believe a book is in the public domain for users in the United States, that the work is also in the public domain for users in other countries. Whether a book is still in copyright varies from country to country, and we can't offer guidance on whether any specific use of any specific book is allowed. Please do not assume that a book's appearance in Google Book Search means it can be used in any manner anywhere in the world. Copyright infringement liability can be quite severe.

NINTH ANNUAL REPORT

OF

DEPARTMENT OF INSPECTION.

Hon. J. Frank Hanly, Governor of Indiana:

Sir—I herewith submit to you the ninth annual report of the Department of Inspection.

In the different establishments visited by us we have found employed 190,141 persons. Of this number, 82.5 per cent. were males more than sixteen years of age; 15.7 per cent. were females of the same age; 2.5 per cent. were boys between the ages of fourteen and sixteen years; .73 per cent. were girls between these ages.

Great interest has been taken and much has been said with reference to the employment of women who were crowding men out of many lines of work. This evidently is more apparent than real, for we find that the females predominate only in five lines of industries, and in but one of these could we wish that they were barred entirely. In the manufacturing of garments 75 per cent. are females; laundries, 70.5 per cent.; textiles, 63 per cent.; department stores, 61.2 per cent.

From time immemorial women have woven the material, shaped and washed the garments worn by all. It is only with the introduction of machinery when they are crowded out of these industries by their brothers that they are forced to retaliate by seeking employment in other lines. There is this difference, however, the man with the aid of the machine displaces six or more women for about one-third of what they received, while the woman takes the place of but one man at one-half or less of what he was receiving. This is exemplified in the manufacturing of cigars. About one-half of the employes in this trade, in the State, are females, who do as much work as the male cigarmaker for about one-half of his wages. The girls in this trade are injuring their brothers by reducing his wages unnecessarily, and are doing a much greater wrong to themselves through the effect of the tobacco on their systems and its tendency to a low grade of morals.

Outside of these industries the percentage of females is quite small, except in bakeries, where there is 19 per cent. The home-baked loaf has entirely disappeared from the cities and towns and will soon be only a remembrance in the villages. Two thousand and sixty-six men with machines have relieved the housewife and cook of this labor.

The industries of the State have been unusually well and continuously employed. A scarcity of skilled workmen has been felt in nearly all lines. The average number of days worked in 1904 has been very high and will be excelled by the average of 1905.

J. H. Clarke, Deputy Inspector of the third district, tendered his resignation to accept a more lucrative position. The resignation was accepted and the vacancy filled by the appointment of Arthur L. Wright, a machine woodworker, of Indianapolis.

CHILD LABOR.

Child labor, and by this term is understood the employment of children between fourteen and sixteen years of age in manufacturing and mercantile establishments, mines, quarries, laundries, renovating works, bakeries and printing offices. So far as these places are concerned, the law is very generally observed. In a few places we found them violating the law by employing children under the age of fourteen years and by not having the proper affidavits on file. Suits were entered with the following results:

Jan. 20th, John Drach, of Wagner Glass Co., of Ingalls, one case	$14 65
Jan. 30th, J. H. Osborn, of Anderson Computing Scale Co., of Anderson, one case	11 40
Mar. 14th, Fred Rau, of Fairmount Glass Co., of Fairmount, one case	12 80
Mar. 23d, S. C. Zombro, of Zombro Box Co., Gas City, one case	12 80
Apr. 12th, Scott Printing Co., of Marion, one case	10 90
Apr. 21st, The S. G. Taylor Chain Co., of Maxwell, one case	8 25
June 10th, National Biscuit Co., of Indianapolis, one case	11 50
June 17th, The Mill Grove Glass Co. of Mill Grove, one case	9 85
July 1st, The J. F. Darmody Co., of Indianapolis	11 50

Digitized by Google

July 5th Evansville Glass Co., of Evansville two cases..... 29 00
July 17th, The Royer Wheel Co., of Aurora, one case..... 20 50
Aug. 4th, Lapel Bottle Co., of Lapel, one case..... 17 50
Aug. 4th, Wilcox Glass Co., of Lapel, two cases..... 34 20

It is generally conceded that the law should be so changed (as many States already have) that it would apply to telegraph offices, restaurants, hotels, apartment houses, and in the transmission of merchandise or messages, and that those between the ages of fourteen and sixteen should be employed only between the hours of 6 a. m. and 7 p. m. These are some of the recommendations made by the National Child Labor Committee, which is composed of such men as Felix Adler, Ph. D., of New York; A. J. McKelway, of North Carolina; Myron E. Adams, West Side Neighborhood House, New York City, and many other eminent philanthropists.

Our present law permits the employment of those between fourteen and sixteen years of age for ten hours per day. This allows department stores and other places to keep their cash girls and other employes to 10 p. m. They do this by having part of them come later in the morning and by lengthening the dinner and supper hours so that by 10 p. m. they have only been employed ten hours, yet it has been thirteen or fourteen hours from the time they first went on duty. By this means the employers do not violate the letter of the law. The physical effect on the employes, however, is about the same as if they had been continuously employed. The moral effect is much worse.

Any one who visits these great stores near the closing hours of the day can not fail to notice the listless manner and tired appearance of these cash girls, who have been on their feet since early morn. Let us fall in line with other States by making forty-eight hours per week the limit for those of this age.

If the State would prohibit the employment of girls under eighteen in cigar and tobacco factories it would protect their health and morals. It has been decided by the Legislature of this and other States that the smoking of cigarettes by boys of immature years is injurious to their physical, mental and moral natures. Laws have been passed controlling the sale and use of them by those under a certain age. There is no question as to the effect upon the strong, robust boy. What then must be the effect upon the more delicate and complex organs of young girls just entering womanhood, who for eleven hours of the twenty-four breathe the dust and fumes of tobacco? I believe this subject is worthy of more attention by the State than it has yet received.

ACCIDENTS.

There has been reported to this office twelve hundred and fifty accidents, six hundred and sixty-four of which were slight, five hundred and thirty-nine were serious and forty-seven were fatal. Of the forty-seven fatal accidents, eighteen occurred on machinery, nine where no machinery was used, six were caused by powder and five by boiler explosions, elevators caused five and four by electricity. Three were children under ten years of age, who were not employed, but were playing around the premises.

The Department has given particular attention in investigating the cause of accidents. Of the eighteen that occurred on machinery, after a careful examination, we can find but one which might have been prevented by an order from this Department. A large number of the accidents reported to this office have been caused by a national failing which has been termed "American carelessness." This, however, does not express it as clearly as do the words "chance it." The American mechanic, like all other Americans, works under high pressure. Oftentimes he does that which he knows he ought not to do, in the way of adjusting a belt or piece of machinery without taking certain precautions, which would require a few minutes time, so he chances it. If successful, he is elated and his fellow workmen applaud his daring, but when he fails and is either a cripple or a corpse, the foreman will tell you that the injured party had positive orders not to attempt to make the changes without first taking the necessary precautions.

Accidents in this country are three times as many as in France and twice that of other European countries. We lead the world in the invention of safety devices which will prevent accidents, and yet use fewer of them. As stated in a previous report, workmen refuse to use them, believing that it is a reflection upon their ability as a mechanic, preferring to take the risk, and then, if injured, sue for damages, chancing it before a jury.

This Department has frequently urged that those between fourteen and sixteen years of age should be prohibited from working where life, limb or morals would be endangered. Such a measure was introduced in the last General Assembly but was opposed by a large number of persons who, doubtless, were unaware of the number of boys who were being injured. For their information, the following figures are presented: In 1901 there were two thousand six hundred and thirty-four boys between the ages of fourteen and sixteen employed. Of this number, twenty were injured, or .7 per cent. of the whole number; nine of the injuries caused amputation; of adults but .2 per cent. were injured. In 1902 there were two thousand six hundred and twenty-two boys employed; thirty-nine, or 1.5 per cent., were injured; nineteen caused amputations; of adults .3 per cent. were injured. In 1903 two thousand two hundred and twenty-six boys were employed; forty-five, or 2 per cent., injured; twenty-three amputations; adults injured .4 per cent. In 1904 two thousand three hundred and thirty-five boys were employed; fifty-nine, or 2.5 per cent., were injured; twenty amputations; adults injured .4 per cent. In 1905 two thousand nine hundred and thirteen boys were employed; forty-five, or 1.5 per cent., injured; eleven amputations; adults injured .3 per cent.

While the percentage of injuries is apparently insignificant, the number in the aggregate is quite large. The average cost of each accident to men and manufacturer, in loss of wages and medical fees, has been in 1902, $79.40; in 1903, $55.65; in 1904, $35.50; in 1905, $53.40. If to these figures are added damages awarded by courts and lawyers' fees, it will be seen that all possible precautions should be taken for their prevention.

The following rules have been carefully selected from many sources, a reasonable enforcement of which will reduce the number of accidents to a minimum:

"All work on transmissions, especially the cleaning and lubricating of shafts, bearings and pulleys, as well as the binding, lacing, shipping and unshipping of belts, must be performed only by men especially instructed in or charged with such labors.

"The lacing, binding or packing of belts, if they lie upon either shafting or pulleys during the operation, must be strictly prohibited. During the lacing and connecting of belts strict attention is to be paid to their removal from revolving parts, either by hanging them upon a hook fastened to the ceiling, or in any other practical manner; the same applies to smaller belts which are occasionally unshipped and run idle.

"While the shafts are in motion they are to be lubricated, or the lubricating devices examined only when observing the following rules: (1) The person performing this labor must either do it while standing upon the floor, or by the use of (2) firmly located stands on steps, especially constructed for the purpose, so as to afford a good and substantial footing for the workman; (3) firmly constructed sliding ladders, running on bars; (4) sufficiently high and strong ladders, especially constructed for the purpose, which by appropriate safeguards (hooks above or iron points below) afford security against slipping.

"Only after the engineer has given the well-understood signal, plainly audible in the workrooms, is the engine to be started.

"If any work other than lubricating and cleaning of the shafting is to be performed while the engine is standing idle, the engineer is to be notified of it, and in what room or place such work is going on, and he must then allow the engine to remain idle until he has been informed by proper parties that the work is finished.

"All belts or ropes which pass from the shafting of one story to that of another shall be guarded by fencing or casing of wood, sheet-iron or wire netting four feet six inches high.

"The belts passing from shafting in the story underneath and actuating machinery in the room overhead, thereby passing through the ceiling, must be enclosed with proper casing or netting corresponding in height from the floor to the construction of the machine. When the construction of the machine does not admit of the introduction of casing, then, at least, the opening in the floor through which the belt or rope passes should be enclosed with a low casing at least four inches high.

"Fixed shafts, as well as ordinary shafts, pulleys and flywheels, running at a little height above the floor, and being within the locality where work is performed, shall be securely covered.

"Wear close-fitting clothes; have a blouse or jacket to button close around the waist and body; have sleeves to fit arms closely as far up as elbow; never wear a coat around machinery; never approach a pair of gears or pulley from the driving side; never attempt to save time by putting or trying to put on any fast-moving belts without slacking up or stopping entirely to do it. Never allow an inexperienced person to go through the mills without an attendant; never allow a woman to go through a mill, no matter how many attendants, while in motion."

The following suits were entered for failing to report accidents to this Department:

May 22d, Tucker & Dorsey Mfg. Co., of Indianapolis, one case.....$12 70
May 22d, Indianapolis Traction and Terminal Co., of Indianapolis..
Judgment rendered against company. Company appealed to Superior Court and from Superior to Supreme Court. Decision not yet handed down.

BOILERS AND BOILER EXPLOSIONS.

An authority on boilers well says that "Every boiler constructed of riveted plate and carrying a high head of steam, holds in constant abeyance, through the strength of disruptive shell, a force more destructive in its escaping violence than burning gunpowder. To the casual observer there is no evidence of this; and it is only when a rupture takes place of such a character as to liberate on the instant the entire contents of the boiler that we get a real demonstration of the fact. Unfortunately a steam boiler never grows stronger, but deteriorates with every day's age and labor, subjected, as it is, to all sorts of weakening influences; and fractures often occur, which, if not at once repaired, would speedily reduce the strength of the boiler to the point of explosion." If every person having charge of a steam boiler realized this, and that every drop of water in the boiler when converted into steam at atmospheric pressure would expand 1,669 times, there would be fewer explosions, and, consequently, a less number of deaths or mutilated bodies.

The causes producing boiler explosions may be given under six heads: (1) Poor design; (2) poor workmanship; (3) poor material; (4) excessive pressure; (5) overheating of the plates, caused by shortness of water; (6) the accumulation of scale, mud or other deposit. So far as our observation extends, we are convinced that excessive pressure causes the greatest number, and this through the ignorance of the men in charge, assisted by defective steamgauges and too small or inoperative safety valve.

Digitized by Google

Owners of boilers often carry the same pressure on an old boiler that they did when it was new. When we consider the fact that the life of an iron boiler is from twenty-five to thirty years, and that of a steel one fifteen to twenty, we can readily see that the pressure should be reduced as it approaches the age limit.

Of the nine explosions in the State, four were boilers in factories, one in a sawmill, two in oil and gas wells, one farm engine and one coal hoisting engine boiler. It would very materially reduce the number of explosions if all the facts were brought out at inquests, and if all companies insuring boilers would report every policy canceled on account of unsafe conditions to this office.

The boiler inspection law has caused many boilers to be inspected that were in a very dangerous condition, some of which were in such bad shape that they could not be repaired; consequently, they have been thrown out of service. The traffic in second-hand boilers continues, and in some cases a boiler is condemned and thrown out and replaced with one almost as dangerous. This can only be remedied by additional legislation requiring a certificate of condition granted by some competent inspector other than the person selling.

ORDERS ISSUED, ETC.

There have been two thousand four hundred orders issued this year for the better protection of machinery, inspection of boilers, improvement of sanitary conditions, and for the erection of fire escapes on hotels and other public buildings. We have received and examined five hundred and ninety-nine boiler inspection certificates; executed six hundred and fifty affidavits of parent or guardian, without charge; examined and passed on four thousand five hundred and one inspections; received and referred for further investigation twelve hundred and fifty accidents.

By reason of the above, the laws have been made more effective; liability to accident reduced; theaters and places of public assemblage made safer, and conditions in factories and workshops generally improved. Very respectfully submitted,

D. H. M'ABEE,
Chief Inspector.

DEPARTMENT OF INSPECTION OF INDIANA.

1905.

The following is an explanation of figures in column marked "Orders Issued and Complied With:"

No. 1. Relates to guarding of machinery and belting.

No. 2. Relates to affidavits, registers, and the posting of laws, and names of those between the ages of fourteen and sixteen years.

No. 3. Relates to toilet, washrooms and resting seats.

No. 4. Relates to elevators, hoisting shafts and stairways.

No. 5. Relates to fire escapes, exits, alarms and the posting of notices, in sleeping rooms, how to reach fire escapes.

No. 6. Relates to air space, water and ventilation.

No. 7. Relates to bakeshop regulations.

No. 8. Relates to inspection of boilers or anything pertaining thereto.

No. 9. Unclassified.

Figures in black faced type indicate the orders that have been reported as having been complied with.

Notice.—November and December are months of 1905.

Selections from the 2,400 Orders Issued

BY THE

DEPARTMENT OF INSPECTION.

Showing the lines along which the Department is working, as well as the many phases of knowledge necessary for the proper discharge of the duties.

These orders are revised, corrected and mailed by the Chief Inspector on blanks prepared for that purpose from the office, 91 State House, where all communications with reference to same should be addressed.

EXHIBIT D.

Selections from the 2,400 Orders Issued by the Department of Inspection.

January 28.—Place ten-inch 'I' beam (N.E. and S.W.) across freight elevator shaft centrally under overhead pulley support timbers, as additional support for latter, the ends of such 'I' beam to be securely rested in brick wall; providing a new turn buckle, not less than two inches longer than one now in use, on lifting cable provided the bolts in present buckle can not be given at least one-inch hold. The counterbalance idler pulley should be at least one-third larger than present idler.

January 28.—Raise wings of dough chute two inches, and secure a wooden piece four inches wide at each end to chute wings, near to and parallel with roller.

March 29.—Provide a screen shield or hand railing before flywheel of belt of small 40 H. P. engine, in engine room; erect substantial hand rail on wall around coal pit in which conveyor belts operate, ground floor south end of coal storage house, and hand rail on stair leading to second story, same building; post laws.

The hand railing at entrance to coke tower, at head of incline, is too high for safety and must be reshaped and lowered. The north and south sides of elevator, in coke house, must be inclosed or otherwise guarded to prevent projecting loads striking second floor, as explained by deputy.

April 13.—Make some provision as a safeguard against the possibility of workmen and others falling or stepping into the hot, boiling contents of row of tanks on the west side of building, by either hand railing or provide sectional covers or any other means equally as safe, so the tanks are not left open with boiler contents exposed at any time.

April 19.—Provide better roof and surface drainage for the rear and back yard entrance to building No. 1007-1009 North Illinois street, now used and occupied as bakery; down pipes must be repaired, sewer pipes made serviceable and all ashes and debris removed.

April 20.—Provide and attach splitter or spreader saw guards for each of the following numbered saws, on first floors of bench shop and cutting room of your plant, and insist upon their use: No. 334 adjustable table rip saw (No. 114 rip saw now guarded); No. 249 adjustable table rip saw; No. 217 stationary table rip saw; No. 250 adjustable table rip saw; No. 244 stationary table rip saw; No. 241 shifting arbor iron table rip saw, if possible to connect; No. 227 self-feed vertical splitter, rear of saw under the guard.

The above saws can be successfully operated when equipped with guards, as explained by deputy.

April 20.—Put all water closets and urinals in Pearl street building in clean, sanitary and serviceable condition; the closets on fifth floor and water supply there to require special attention. An electric light which will reflect proper light in each closet and stricter attention toward preserving cleanliness in the closets is most urgently recommended.

May 5.—Make safe by a permanent cover over manhole to sewer pit, in northwest corner of boiler room at entrance from engine room; replace with new lifting cable the present defective and unsafe cable on elevator No. 1; cover or countersink the exposed, protruding set screws pointed out to Mr. Brown, and report accidents occurring on your premises since October 1, 1904, to this Department.

May 5.—Provide sheet iron hood over oven front with flue out of ceiling and roof, for removal of smoke from shop; scrape and scrub floor and all woodwork and furniture in bakeshop; paint or lime wash side walls and ceilings, at once, and post law and expectorating notices.

A prompt compliance with this order is insisted upon or further use of shop will not be permitted as a bakery.

May 10.—Place a guard rail about three open tanks (in oil department, third floor, near west wall) which extend eight to ten inches above the floor; because of their highly heated contents and the slippery condition of floor, such guard is necessary. Because of the numerous scalping accidents that occur where females are employed near rapid, revolving shafting, arbors and spindles. You will inclose or securely guard the exposed cutter shafts (about 36 inches long) on beef clipper, B building, canning department, and on bacon slicer; the exposed knives to both clipper and slicer where Mayme Brown was injured, should be safely guarded with shield extending out and below knives. For the same reason as above, you will inclose the arbors on scrolling machines in can making department, and cover the dog ratchet and feed wheel on ending machine, in can department; post state factory laws in entrance to each building where persons are employed, one in box factory and one in planing mill.

July 10.—Provide and place red lights at head and foot of each flight of stairs and at intersection of hallways and doors leading to fire escapes; posting "Exit" notices indicating in hallways on each floor the location of fire escapes; keep posted in a conspicuous place in every room notices descriptive of all means of escape.

July 27.—Disinfect closet in ruling room, and provide a system of ventilation that will remove all injurious gases and odors from all rooms; all inside closets should be enclosed to ceiling with vent flues to carry foul air to outside of building. Ample and proper ventilation will require the introduction and the taking out of at least thirty cubic feet of air per minute for each workman in the room; foul air openings should be as near the floor line as possible.

August 3.—Better the sanitary conditions of water closets; clean vault; disinfect and provide urinal with proper drainage, or change location of vault; provide exhaust system for removal of dust from grinding stands.

November 30.—Cover all shaftings, at floor; cover or countersink all set screws in collars and hubs of pulley wheels; have boiler inspected twice a year as required by law, and provide a steam gauge in laundry, as boiler is in a separate room from laundry.

February 3.—Cover, securely, the water tank at the side of boiler house, and provide railing and gates for elevator at first and second floors.

March 29.—Provide guards for all saws and shapers; erect guard rail along belt of 20 H. P. steam engine, on first floor of factory, as suggested by deputy; cover or countersink all set screws in collars and hubs of pulley wheels, and shield all low shafting.

April 7.—Shield belts and pulleys at ends of rolls; cover or countersink all set screws in collars and hubs of pulley wheels; shield cog wheels on bolters and wheels of gas engine; erect guard rails at the heads of stairs, on second and third floors, and hand rails on stairs, and post laws.

May 3.—Provide three good gauge-cocks for boiler and keep them in good working order at all times; provide guards for dough brakes; lime wash or paint all walls and ceiling of bakeshop; provide top outward-tiping window screens and cuspidors for shop, and post laws and notices.

November 28.—Cover or inclose elevator drive shaft in corn mill basement, room next adjoining boiler room, from building line to conveyor pulley and from pulley to clutch; have boiler, in corn mill, inspected twice a year as required by law; keep certificate of such inspection on file in your office and mail a copy of same to this Department.

November 30.—Provide proper water closet for female employes, properly screened and separate from any closet used by men.

November 30.—Cover exposed inmeshing gear, (1) on cone pulley driving first cutter, near floor; (2) bevel gear under stair to oiling platform; (3) gear, near floor, operating pulp pump over feeder chest; provide hand rail along entire oiling platform, in calendar room, and post law in each building.

December 14.—Provide a sefety valve for each one of your boilers.

May 20.—Provide an incombustible curtain for proscenium arch, or curtain opening; place hand rail on stairs; paint all woodwork on stage and under side of stage floor with No. 1 fire proof paint; place stand pipes and other requirements for extinguishing fire on stage; place ventilator over stage as law requires, and widen aisles between elevated seats so as to comply with the law.

July 28.—Provide guard rails at flywheel of engine, in cold roll department; provide guard rails at side of belt to dynamo and around all cog gears and flywheel of engine, in hot mill; provide means of escape for offensive fumes arising from the tin pots; secure affidavits for all minors between the ages of fourteen and sixteen years, and post laws. Please give us the name of the company carrying insurance on your boiler.

July 28.—Provide guard for jointer and double cut-off saw, on second floor; place tight and loose pulleys and belt shifter on same saw; place shield over cog gear of drill press; cover or countersink all set screws in line shaft and mandral ends; have boiler inspected every six months as required by law; secure affidavit for minor between ages of fourteen and sixteen years, and post laws.

July 28.—Provide guard rails on each side of all runways, around tops of grain pits and around main belt and flywheel of engine; place bar across outside door, on third floor, and post law.
